Dr. Irvin Waller: Reducing Crime in Ottawa

Influencing change in Ottawa to halve violence by 50% within five years.

A respected authority on victim support and rights, Dr. Waller has played key roles in establishing and leading the World Society of Victimology and the International Organization for Victim Assistance. He has been a member of numerous national and international commissions and task forces focused on safety and security around the world. Among them is South Africa's Task Force on Safety and Security during the Mandela administration.

Dr. Waller will discuss international success stories to model and secrets to halve violence in Canada by 50% within 5 years. He is an advocate of stopping violence before it happens by addressing causes. The science and secrets that address causes reduce violence significantly, cost-effectively, and within 5 years. Social outreach, youth development, stop now and plan, trauma therapy and mentoring, positive parenting, and improving norms are important examples of prevention that stops violence before it happens and gets results within 3 years.

Dr. Waller is emeritus professor of criminology at the University of Ottawa and a popular public speaker in English, French and Spanish. His M.A. and Ph.D. are from the University of Cambridge in economics and criminology. Among Waller's too-numerous-to-name international accolades are awards for his role in pioneering the United Nations' Victim Magna Carta, which has influenced the International Criminal Court and changed crime policy from Japan to Mexico. He received recognition from governments in Europe, North America, and Mexico for his contributions in shifting the world agenda to embrace prevention.

Dr. Waller is the author of three influential books written for public libraries and politicians, including Less Law, More Order, Rights for Victims of Crimes, and Smarter Crime Control. Each of these shares in simple language the solid violence prevention science of effective solutions and best practices to support justice for victims. His latest book is Science and Secrets of Ending Violent Crime.

Probud clubs provide regular gatherings for semi-retired and retired people who appreciate and value opportunities to meet with others of similar interests. The morning begins at 10:00 am with a time for coffee and socialization followed by our meeting at 10:30 which includes a guest speaker.

The Prez Sez

Happy New Year everyone.

I hope you all had a great time during the Christmas and New Year celebrations.

This month, I would like to welcome 3 new members to our Management Committee as listed to the right.

- Suma Abraham is willing to coordinate those club members who volunteer to arrange any restaurant excursions during the coming months.
- David Lee is still exploring his role but has agreed to help with the website and is considering the VP role.
- Ruth Brydon is considering managing the book swap table.

Many positions would benefit from having helpers assist the Committee member coordinating that role. So please consider helping your club by putting your name forward for such assistance. It's also a great opportunity to make a new friend.

We are pleased that our Outings coordinator, George Steeves, is now back on his feet. See page 5 for details about our January Glow in the Dark mini golf event. Future outings being considered include:

- the Canadian Mint or the National Art Gallery
- Temple's Sugar Bush
- the SunTech greenhouses
- the Brockville Railway Tunnel
- the Almonte Textile Museum
- the Marshes nine hole executive course
- Fletcher's Gardens at the Experimental Farm

Be sure to check each month's newsletter for the latest details.

Speaker Ideas Wanted

Beth Sweetnam, our Speaker Coordinator, will be leaving this role after June. Currently, she has speakers lined up through May. This position is vital to our club's continuation. Please consider working alongside her for one or more months so you can see what's involved. Ideally, we'd like to have a committee working in this area. If this role on the Management Committee does not interest you, you can still contribute by supplying suggestions. These may be merely topics, but providing contact info for a particular speaker is even better.

Submit any ideas to speaker@probuswesternottawa.ca. (Religious or political topics should be avoided.)
